Journal of Building Performance Simulation

Please find our responses to the 37 questions and comments made by the referees. Overall, we believe that we have fully addressed each issue individually in a way that satisfies the requirements of the journal review process.

Each reviewer's general comments were responded to and their individual questions and comments were addressed in detail in this document. The responses are shaded blue following each reviewer's comments and questions. Included also in this submission is the revised manuscript document that is a final draft version with all changes and additions incorporated.

Please contact me with any further comments or concerns regarding this resubmission.

Kind Regards,
